

Limited Assurance Report on Alignment with the Operating Principles for Impact Management

In response to your request, we verified that the impact management system, as described in Flat World Partners LLC (“FWP”) policies and procedures (the “Policies”) and summarized in the annual Disclosure Statement dated as of December 21, 2020 (the “Statement”), is aligned with the Operating Principles for Impact Management dated February 2019 (the “Principles”) for certain covered assets under management (as of December 31, 2020).

1. FWP’s responsibility for the alignment of its impact management system with the “Principles”

It is the responsibility of FWP to define the processes, roles and responsibilities necessary to align its organization with the Principles. It is also the responsibility of FWP to publicly report on its website, on an annual basis, its commitment to the Principles and the extent to which impact management systems are aligned with them.

2. Independence and quality control

We have complied with the independence and other ethical requirements of our professional expertise, which is founded on fundamental principles of integrity, due care, confidentiality and professional behavior.

3. Our responsibility

Our responsibility is to express a limited assurance conclusion on the compliance of the impact management system described in the Policies with the Principles based on the evidence we obtained and the review we performed. We conducted our limited assurance engagement in accordance with professional standards we apply to test adherence with financial regulatory laws, rules and regulations. That standard requires that we plan and perform this engagement to obtain limited assurance about whether the Statement is free from material misstatement.

The scope of our work was limited to covered investments recommended by FWP as described in the Statement dated December 21, 2020. As is noted within, FWP offers advisory services only. During the time period, it did not carry or custody accounts and therefore it does not have any assets under management as defined within the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended and clarified in implementing regulations. Instead, the Principles apply to covered assets or investment recommended by FWP to its clients.

4. Nature and scope of our work

We performed the following procedures based on our professional judgment:

- We verified that the Policies address each of the Principles;
- We assessed the relevance, completeness, reliability, neutrality and understandability of the Policies in relation to the Principles;

- We conducted interviews with the people in charge of defining, applying and enforcing the Policies;
- We performed walk-through tests to check the correct application of the Policies;
- We verified the cover assets (as described in the Statement dated December 21, 2020) aligned with the Principles; and
- We examined the integrity of the information provided in the Statement in relation to the Policies.

The scope of our review did not include however an assessment of the effectiveness of the impact measurement approach, nor the verification of the resulting impacts achieved.

5. Limited assurance conclusion

Based on the information collected by us and the review completed, there has been no evidence found that causes us to believe that the information contained in FWP's Disclosure Statement dated December 21, 2020, regarding its alignment with the Operating Principles for Impact Management, is not free from material misstatement.

The scope of the procedures we carried out did not include any evaluation of FWP's approach unrelated to the extent of alignment to the Principles. In addition, we did not evaluate the veracity of the outputs of FWP's impact assessment tools and we relied on the accuracy of information provided to us by FWP. This conclusion is to be understood solely in the context of the nature and scope of our work as an independent verifier.

This report, including our conclusion, has been prepared solely for Flat World Partners Advisors LLC in accordance with the agreement between our firms. We grant permission for it to be disclosed online and furnished to other interested parties solely to demonstrate FWP's alignment with the Operating Principles for Impact Management.

To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than FWP management for our work or this statement, except where terms are expressly agreed between us in writing.
